Military Relief Organizations

Military relief organizations help Service Members and their dependents with certain emergency financial needs. Help comes in the form of interest-free loans, grants or a combination of loans and grants. Most loans and grants from military relief organizations are for one-time financial emergencies—for example, for rent, utilities, vehicle repair, certain medical and dental expenses and emergency travel.

Army Emergency Relief (AER) is the Army’s own emergency financial assistance organization and is dedicated to "Helping the Army Take Care of Its Own." AER provides commanders a valuable asset in accomplishing their basic command responsibility for the morale and welfare of soldiers. AER funds are made available to commanders having AER Sections to provide emergency financial assistance to soldiers—active & retired—and their dependents when there is a valid need.
www.aerhq.org

Navy-Marine Corps Relief Society provides financial assistance and education, as well as other programs and services, to members of the United States Navy and Marine Corps, their eligible family members, widows, and survivors. The Society also receives and manages donated funds to administer these programs and services.
www.nmcrs.org

Air Force Aid Society (AFAS) is the official charity of the U.S. Air Force. It promotes the Air Force mission by helping "to relieve distress of Air Force members and their families and assisting them to finance their education." It is rooted in the original Army Air Corps and the World War II Army Air Forces, whose members wanted to "take care of their own." Through the years, AFAS has become increasingly effective in helping individuals with personal emergencies—as well as extremely useful when used by commanders to help solve personnel problems in their units.
www.AFAS.org

Military Veterans’ Resources

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides a wide variety of resources to support our nation’s Veterans.
www.va.gov

VA Caregiver Support Line provides immediate assistance and answers to questions about what services you may be eligible. Calls are answered by caring licensed professionals who can tell you about the services available from VA, how you can access them and how you can reach the Caregiver Support Coordinator at a VA Medical Center near you. If you're just getting started with VA, calling the Caregiver Support Line is a great first step to take to learn more about the support that's available to you. VA's Caregiver Support Line 1-855-260- 3274 is toll-free Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m.–11:00 p.m. ET, Saturday 10:30 a.m.–6:00 p.m. ET.

Other Government Resources

In addition to services provided by the U.S. Department of Defense and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, civilian agencies funded by the federal government and independent non-profits provide resources for Service members, Veterans and families.

U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) The mission of the Department of Health and Human Services is to help provide the building blocks that Americans need to live healthy, successful lives. We fulfill that mission every day by providing millions of children, families, and seniors with access to high-quality health care, by helping people find jobs and parents find affordable child care, by keeping the food on Americans’ shelves safe and infectious diseases at bay and by pushing the boundaries of how we diagnose and treat disease. Programs administered by HHS include: Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, Food and Drug Administration (FDA), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), NIH and SAMHSA. http://www.hhs.gov/

National Institutes of Health (NIH) seeks fundamental knowledge about the nature and behavior of living systems and the application of that knowledge to enhance health, lengthen life and reduce illness and disability. The goals of the agency are to foster fundamental creative discoveries, innovative research strategies and their applications as a basis for ultimately protecting and improving health; develop, maintain and renew scientific human and physical resources that will ensure the Nation's capability to prevent disease; expand the knowledge base in medical and associated sciences in order to enhance the Nation’s economic well-being and ensure a continued high return on the public investment in research; and exemplify and promote the highest level of scientific integrity, public accountability and social responsibility in the conduct of science. www.nih.gov

National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) envisions a world in which mental illnesses are prevented and cured. The mission of NIMH is to transform the understanding and treatment of mental illnesses through basic and clinical research, paving the way for prevention, recovery and cure. For the Institute to continue fulfilling this vital public health mission, it must foster innovative thinking and ensure that a full array of novel scientific perspectives are used to further discovery in the evolving science of brain, behavior and experience
